Intimate weddings

A destination wedding is a perfect idea for a union of two souls, two lives entwined, two families coming together, joined together forever in love. Red Earths are located in the choicest and most exotic locations, undisturbed by the mundane; nestled along less-frequented part of jungles, hidden behind the cliff with the privacy of an isolated beach all for itself, a large placid reservoir on all sides creating a sense of calm and timelessness.

Beautiful cottages dispersed amidst nature, merge with it. Sustainable architecture with mud walls, grass roofs and more, rich with creature comforts welcome you to a chic stay. Wade pools, jacuzzis in room, private patios overlooking glorious views be it of the Arabian sea at Gokarna, teeming jungles and bubbling brooks of Tadoba, the infinite vista of Kabini reservoir add to your special occasion.

A 1400-year-old Shiva temple, 300-year-old Mango tree, chanting entreaties from a Jyothir Ling nearby, paganistic rituals of an ancient forest people, the calm waters that have flown for aeons, bless your union, with the songbirds chiming in the auspicious hour as butterflies flutter about restlessly welcoming all the guests.

Celebrating a new chapter, in solitude

Located at the edges of the Nagarhole National Park, Kabini encompasses the spirit of both the wild and the divine. Exchange the sacred vows of togetherness with the wild as a witness! Have your ceremonies at our bespoke events hall. And for those that crave the truly traditional, celebrate under our wizened old mango tree by the backwaters, that's 3 centuries old.

Nestled in a peninsula with expansive backwaters on all 3 sides and the edge of the forest, we are home to 2 man-made lakes within the property. Right across our property there lies an ancient shiva temple, imbining a sense of history and ancient culture throughout the region.

Come spend a guilt free holiday/wedding at Red Earth Kabini. Whether it's empowering local communities through schools or using organic produce from our own garden, we are sustainable in every sense of the word.

A location that's best suited for your special day. Nestled among the backwaters and the forests, in a different time, a different life. Red Earth Kabini is where your wedding was always meant to be. Be wed by Kabini's backwaters, or inquire about our bespoke event hall that you can commandeer for the duration of the festivities. Since we only cater to small, exclusive groups, take comfort in the fact that Red Earth Kabini's hospitality and expertise will always be at your behest, for the duration of your event, and even afterwards. And once the nuptials are complete, enjoy the company of your loved ones under the stars, and listen to a tiger roaring his blessing.

GOKARNA

Celebrating unions with exquisiteness

Red Earth Gokarna, our exclusive Wellness and Wellbeing Retreat is a favourite destination among the Yogis from around the world. An exquisite location at the edge of a cliff overseeing the Arabian Sea and a beautiful stretch of lonely beach, known for privacy and serenity. With divine incantations from ancient temples of Gokarna and Ankola suffusing the cool sea breeze, Red Earth is a divine destination for your dream wedding.

Cliff hugging property with indigenous plants and trees adding to the scenic vistas, wide-open spaces, large dining area indoor and alfresco overlooking the expansive Arabian Sea, pristine stretch of beach undisturbed by outsiders - pick your venue, and we will create an exotic stage for your sacred union.

Well-appointed private cottages built in the local style with grass roofs adding to the rustic charm of the retreat. Seaside Spa with the waves lapping up to the very walls as you indulge your senses at the hands of expert therapists. Start your married life with a conscious step towards wellbeing by training with our world-renowned Yoga gurus.

Konkan is a potpourri of flavours and palettes with influences from all around and across the sea as well. Red Earth Gokarna builds on this legacy adding to its repertoire from North India, Mughalai among others, from the world over, Continental and more. A wellness retreat, Red Earth specialises in Sattvic food and Vegan. Our recommendation; indulge in the fresh catch of the day from the choicest 'vegetable of the sea' as the indigenous Saraswat Brahmins call fish. Tribal delicacies from the kitchens of Hallaki Gowdas is a must-try too.

Bathed in Tradition

Take a step back in time and a step into tradition with your dearly beloved. Go through a simpler, more meaningful form of exchanging vows. At Red Earth properties, undertake a curated, bespoke Arya Samaj weddings, guided by priests with decades of experience.

Arya Samaj weddings are a simpler affair compared to most Hindu weddings. The concept was formed by the Arya Samaj in the 19th century, and to this day remains a popular choice among many young couples looking to tie the knot.

While some similarities appear between Arya Samaj weddings and traditional weddings, they are not the same. Arya Samaj weddings are done without the presence of an idol, for instance. They can also be undertaken by people from any faith or background, so long as they conform to all traditions of the Samaj. All wedding formalities and rituals take place around a sacred fire, and the entire event is much simpler and does not extend beyond a few hours. All this, while retaining its original essence and traditions, so for the more pious of patrons, an Arya Samaj wedding would be more than apt.
